

amounts to a failure to justify and fairly consider the merits and claims of the applicant shown by his efficient and excellent standing in the mental examinations.

"Colonel Garrard has been admonished to avoid a repetition of the action taken in this case."

COURT ORDERS

Judgments Entered in Several Suits in Circuit Court.

Judgment was entered yesterday in the City Circuit Court in the case of the American National Bank against J. A. Angle for $400.

In the case of Pollak Products Company against W. E. Nichols and R. A. Angus Nichols, judgment was entered for the plaintiff against W. E. Nichols, trading as the Richmond Automobile Supply Company, for $100.00, and the jury found for the defendant as to R. A. Angus Nichols, the suit having been brought against the two brothers trading as a partnership.

In the case of Mrs. J. R. Christopher against the Virginia Railway and Power Company an order was entered requiring the defendant to file grounds of defense within five days.

In the case of the Henrice Lumber Company against J. L. Lacy, motion for judgment was granted in the case of J. L. Lacy against the Henrice Lumber Company and the plaintiff's attorney.

In the suit of George H. Black against J. A. Wells and others, judgment was entered in favor of the defendant.

PREPARE FOR CAMP

Major Bowles Announces No Furloughs Will Be Given.

Every effort will be put forth to make the coming encampment of the United States Army at Fort Belvoir, in the city of St. Louis, a military camp. Such are the orders of Major E. W. Bowles, in giving directions to the commanding officers of the various regiments, and the preparation of the men for the affair, which will be held from July 17 to July 23.

No one will be excused from attendance at this camp except in the most exceptional cases. Major Bowles has written in advance that all applications for furlough during any part of the time of the encampment will be denied.

SUMMER BOWLING TOURNAMENT BEGINS TONIGHT AT FOREST HILL

The summer bowling tournament will begin on the Palace Aloys, at Forest Hill, Park, to-night, when the Times-Dispatch team goes against the Jewelers, winners of the cup in the Richmond Bowling Association. The Jewelers will be composed of William, Williams, Sutherland, Nalley and Kolbe. The Times-Dispatch will be represented by William, Williams, Sutherland, Nalley and Kolbe. Much interest has been manifested in the tournament, and a number of spectators will be on hand to cheer their favorites.

Wife Desertions Charged.

F. Daniels was arrested at the Petersburg branch of the British-American cigarette factory, yesterday afternoon, for the Richmond authorities. He is charged with deserting his wife and children, one child being in a hospital here. Daniels moved to Richmond from North Carolina. His wife, Mrs. Daniels, was arrested at the time of his arrest, and she was brought to the police station when he was brought here. He was brought back last night by Detective Sergeant Bailey.

Blows to Shoot for Medal.

The annual shoot for the medal, to be held on the 10th of June, will be held at the range near the Blue-Valley. There will be a team of two from each of the four companies. Each team will have two rifles and five score shots at the two ranges of 200 and 300 yards.

The present owner of the medal, who was last year's winner, is Captain Percy Montague, Jr., of Company C.

FREEDOM FROM COLDS & HEADACHES INDIGESTION & SOUR STOMACH BILIOUSNESS & CONSTIPATION

and other ills, due to an inactive condition of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels, may be obtained most pleasantly and most promptly by using Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. It is not a new and untried remedy, but is used by millions of well-informed families throughout the world to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the system whenever a laxative remedy is needed.

When buying note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co., printed on every package of the genuine.

Regular price 50¢ per bottle, one size only.

For sale by all leading druggists.

THE ORIGINAL GENUINE SYRUP OF FIGS ELIXIR OF SENNA

IS MANUFACTURED BY CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

THE PURE Food Store

OLIVE SALAD.

We are the sole agents for this Salad. It beats the world. No social function can be a success without it. 25c per bottle.

A hot weather drink. Keep your liver right and you won't be cross.

Buy of us a bottle of Monticello Virginia-Norton Claret, 50c, or a bottle of Plain Virginia Claret, 25c, and all will be well.

The New Up-Town Store.

Geo. McD. Blake & Co.

Fancy Grocers,

No. 60 Broad St. Phone Mon. 512.

MILLER & CO.

SOUTH RICHMOND VA.

INTERIOR TRIMMINGS, NEWELS, STAIRWAYS, WAINSCOTING, OFFICE AND BANK FIXTURES. Right Prices. Quick Delivery.

Unusual Nice Assortment

Solid Gold Hat Pins

At $2.00 up.

Smith & Webster, Inc.

Jewelers—Opticians,

612 E. Main St.

"Berry's for Clothes."

Our $18 suit will put you in to all-wool company.

More good woolly wool for many a season, and we've lifted the burden from men's shoulders by removing the padding.

Light, cool, good sense suits at $18; for more luxury $20 to $38.

For big comfort see our big sack of summer shirts—$1 to $3.80.

For more comfort wear our Oxfords—The Berry, $3.50, $4 and $5. The Hanan, $6 and $6.80.

AMUSEMENTS

Admission—"The White Sister."

Bill—Vaudeville.

Lulu—Vaudeville.

Good Stock Company Work.

The popularity of the Schiller Players seems to be cumulative, for last night, when the second week's engagement of that organization, with "The White Sister" as the offering, was inaugurated, a large audience awaited the initial curtain and sat with eager interest throughout the four acts, eagerly wondering what would be the outcome of the love affair between Captain Giovanni Severi and Giovanna, the White Sister.

Marion Crawford's story, while always redolent of the Italy which she knew and loved so well, is not of the laughing kind. Giovanna, the White Sister, who has adopted her name of the cloister because it is the feminine form of that of her lover's, practically tells the story when she says, "What God has parted let no man put together."

Believing her lover dead on some battlefield, she enters a convent hospital and takes the vows. Giovanni happens not to be dead at all, and returning from his battles with the wounded body of one of his comrades, discovers his sweetheart. From then until his death in the last act, it is a continual warfare between the love in the breast of the woman and the duty which that same woman feels she owes to the church, with duty triumphant.

The story, despite its morbid denings, manages to grip the audience, and, truth to tell, the actors which Mr. Schiller has brought together have sufficient ability to make almost any play enjoyable, no matter what the dramatic power to make it attractive of itself, for it does. The fact that it furnished a vehicle and a very successful one, for Blanche Walsh for more than a season is proof of that.

Miss Mary Pavey is Giovanna, and a very delightful, forceful and lovable Giovanna she is. Richard Thornton as the lover, Captain Giovanni Severi, dresses and acts the part, as becomes a leading man. Harry Stafford, as Monsignor Saracinesca, the kindly prelate in charge of the hospital, gets acquainted with the audience, and the audience liked him immensely.

Earle Craddock, a native of Alabama, with a rich Southern dialect, reminding one of Tom Wise, is a great Dr. Pieri, while Frank Dallen was another hit in the only comedy relief of the play, as Lieutenant Basil, the friend of Giovanni. Frederick Montague is seen on the stage, and has about two lines, both of which serve to introduce him to the audience. He will be liked better when he is known better.

Dorothy Dalton, as the portress who it was to be a first appearance, and as Madame Bernard gave evidence of her ability as a character woman. Carey Hastings must not be overlooked, for as the Countess of Chiaromonte, she gave a most creditable performance.

A very good performance, well staged and well acted, and deserving of patronage.

Bijou Opens Again.

Nothing more novel or attractive in popular priced vaudeville has ever been offered hereabouts than the "Avin for Girl," which opened the summer season at the Bijou last night. It is a pleasant, not to say thrilling, sensation to have a comedy young female float around in the atmosphere above your head almost within arm's reach, and last night's audience appreciated the stunt mightily.

Fanny Fields, a juggling comedian, showed much dexterity, while the Newells danced and sang themselves into favor. Also, there were new moving pictures and an illustrated song by George Ryan, a man with a voice to fit the colored slides.

The performances were well attended.

RECITAL BY PUPILS

Mrs. Murphy's Vocal School Gives Excellent Performance.

Pupils of Mrs. John Murphy's vocal school gave a delightful and most creditable recital in the Jefferson Hotel auditorium last night. The afternoon and closed with a chorus, and there were solos by Miss Vera Sneed, Miss Bertha Marshall, Miss Louise Bessie, Miss Mary Truman, Miss Nellie Buntin, Miss Edna Bowman and Miss Marion Place.

Mrs. Murphy accompanied her students. Her husband rendered a violin solo, and John Fontaine played piano. The stage was decorated with baskets of roses and ferns. The attendance was unusually large for an occasion of the kind.

Frontiers Night Arm.

N. B. Taylor, of 624 West Grace Street, fell from a stepladder in front of 710 East Main Street yesterday afternoon, and fractured his right arm. He was attended by Dr. Summerman of the city ambulance, and was taken home and placed in charge of his family physician.

LORIMER PROBERS NAMED BY SENATE

(Continued From First Page.)

The money saved on paper could be used to furnish a larger and better news service.

Mr. Ridder acknowledged that the publishers' association had sent out bulletins and letters urging the passage of the reciprocity measure.

"I would not have favored the measure," he said, "if I had not thought it would be of benefit to the country as a whole, independent of my interest in it as a newspaper publisher."

When Mr. Ridder attacked the paper trust, which he said, limited the output, fixed the price and took a publisher where he must buy his paper, both Senators McCumber and Bailey, opponents of the bill, declared that if there was such a trust, they wanted to see it prosecuted by the government.

Mr. Ridder insisted, that answers to numerous questions, that any amendment to the bill would, in his opinion, endanger and probably kill the measure, and that, therefore, he was in favor of seeing the bill passed exactly as it came from the House.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as to Canadian reciprocity, except that they had been told to send any important matter connected with it because of the general interest of the subject. He was questioned in detail as to the Associated Press service by a number of Senators. All reports, he said, were supposed to be absolutely fair to both sides, to be a recital of facts on their news value only.

Mr. Stone testified that no instructions had been sent out to Associated Press correspondents as